

HISTORY. POLICY. IMPACT.

Miller Center Announces 2013–14 Student Ambassadors

The University of Virginia's Miller Center has announced its 2013–14 student ambassadors, ten U.Va. undergraduate students who will attend Miller Center events, publicize the Center on U.Va. Grounds, and encourage student attendance and engagement with the Center's resources.

The ambassadors will also assist with Miller Center programs and events, including the Forum Program, the Governing America in a Global Era (GAGE) colloquium series, the Historical Presidency series, conferences, and online exhibits on the Center's website.

The 2013–14 student ambassadors are:

New Ambassadors

Nick Allen, fourth-year global development studies major, Jefferson Public Citizen and member of the Class of 2014 Trustees

Kacey Hirtle, third-year English major and history minor, Madison House tutor and member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority

Rachel Kopelove, first-year student planning to double major in American studies and politics or sociology

William McComb, second-year student of government, who transcribes Nixon tapes for the Miller Center's Presidential Recordings Program

Frances Russell, fourth-year major in political and social thought, lead organizer for the Miller Center's 2012 Secrets & Traditions student event

Priya Uppal, third-year major in economics and government; vice president of College Council; volunteer with International Students and Scholars Programs, The Cavalier Daily and Housing and Residence Life

Returning Ambassadors

Graham Egan, fourth-year major in government with a minor in mathematics, first-year student in the accelerated masters program at U.Va.'s Frank Batten School of Leadership and Public Policy

Matthew Irvine, second-year major in computer science, member of U.Va.'s International Relations Organization and Campus Kitchen

Rebecca Lim, third-year major in political and social thought and East Asian studies, production editor at The Cavalier Daily, member of Third Year Council and resident advisor

Katharine "Kaleigh" Pittman, second-year student planning to double major in cognitive science and biochemistry with a minor in art history, member of Alpha Chi Omega sorority and Madison House volunteer

Contacts:

Kristy Schantz, 202-758-3918, kkschantz@virginia.edu

Kim Curtis, 434-243-2985, kcurtis@virginia.edu